Admissions and Re-admissions Committee Report to Senate –September 17, 2019

Committee Members: T. Craig, K. Johnston, C. Lovekin, M. Klohn (to May 30, 2018) C. O'Connor (as of June 1), A. Cockshutt (Chair) C. Parker (secretary)

The Admissions and Re-admissions Committee met six times during the period from September, 2018 through September 2019, on the following dates:

- November 1 - by email – 1 application
- April 5 - by email – 5 applications
- May 4 - by email – 1 application
- June 11 - 5 applications, plus 51 academic standing appeals
- June 27 - by email – 1 application
- August 1 - by email – 1 late academic standing appeal

Applications for Readmission following a period of Suspension or Dismissal

From the period of September, 2018 through September 2019, the committee considered thirteen applications for re-admission following a period of Academic Suspension or Dismissal. In two cases, students requested re-admission with permission to register for courses on Letter of Permission (LOP) while on Probation and in one case the student requested readmission so that they could transfer to another university. In all cases, the students were re-admitted on Academic Probation for the term requested.

Review of status of students re-admitted on probation for 18/FW

Conditions for Readmission for 18/FW – Support Services

Effective June 2016, students whose appeals were successful were re-admitted on probation with a requirement that they sign a 'conditions for re-admission' form whereby they agreed to meet with the student service provider(s) identified on the form as determined by the committee, before the end of September. There was further follow-up in January based on 18/FA term grades. Student service providers included: Meighen Centre, Wellness Centre, Academic Advisor, Program Advisors, Academic Support Services, International Advisor, Indigenous Affairs Coordinator, Financial Aid Counsellor, Director of Athletics, other Student Affairs staff.

Of the thirty-five (35) students who were re-admitted on probation for the 18/SFW session:

- Eight (8) students achieved Good Standing (~23%)
- Three (3) students ended the year on Academic Probation (~8.5%)
- Twenty-one (21) students ended the year on Academic Suspension; (~60%)
  - Twelve (12) of those submitted academic standing appeals; nine (9) were successful and re-admitted again on probation for 19/FW.
- Three (3) students did not return for 18/FW (~8.5%)

Academic Standing Appeals at the end of the 18/SFW year

The committee considered fifty-one letters of appeal plus one late appeal in August from a student whose intention was to transfer to another university.

Fifteen students appealing Suspension or Dismissal had an account balance at time of appeal. Calendar regulation 4.4.4 stipulates that appeals to the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee will only be considered if there is no outstanding balance payable on the student's account. Upon the recommendation of the Retention Committee and in consultation with Shane Carroll, the committee was authorized to consider the appeals and to release the outcome even if the account balance was not paid. Students were advised to contact Shane Carroll to discuss possible options for a payment plan.

Students recommended by the committee for re-admission on Academic Probation were re-admitted with the condition that they may register for no more than 15 credits per term and that they will remain on Academic Probation until the end of the 2019-2020 academic session at which time their academic standing will be re-assessed. To return to Good Standing they must achieve a Session GPA of at least 1.5 AND a CGPA of at least 1.5. During the probation period, students are not eligible to take courses on Letter of Permission at another university. Students were also required to sign a 'Conditions for Readmission on Probation' form confirming agreement to meet with the specified student support service providers before the end of the second week of classes. Most of the students readmitted on probation are also required to attend a series of four academic support sessions in the Fall term coordinated by Shelly Colette.

Group I - Academic Dismissal

Neither of the two (2) students who ended the year on Academic Dismissal appealed.

Group II - Academic Suspension from Good Standing

Twenty-two (22) of forty-two (42) students who began the year in Good Standing but ended the year on Academic Suspension appealed. After considering the appeals of each of the students, the committee recommended that all be re-admitted to full-time studies on Academic Probation.

Group III - Academic Suspension from Academic Probation or Re-admission on Probation

Twenty-nine (29) of fifty-six (56) students who began the year on Academic Probation (17 of 35) or Re-admitted on Probation following previous suspension (12 of 21) appealed their placement on Academic Suspension. The committee recommended twenty-four (24) of those students to be re-admitted to full-time studies on Academic Probation. The committee recommended re-admission on probation for the student who submitted a late appeal. The committee made no recommendation for re-admission for five (5) students and those students were advised that they remain on suspension.

Students whose appeals were unsuccessful were advised that the committee's decision may be appealed to the Readmission Appeals Committee under one of the following grounds:

- a) the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee was biased;
- b) the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee made an error in interpreting a regulation;
- c) new information has been provided subsequent to the decision of the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee; (eg. Grade change in course(s), medical or other supporting documentation)
- d) the decision of the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee imposes undue or unreasonable hardship.

Re-admissions Appeals Committee
Report to Senate, September 17, 2019

Membership of the Committee:

- The Secretary of Senate (ex officio), Craig Brett, Chair
- An Academic Dean (ex officio), Amanda Cockshutt
- One Faculty Member or Librarian, Margaret-Ellen Messinger
- One Alternate Faculty Member or Librarian, Linda Pearse

The Re-admissions Appeals Committee met once in the past year, on July 17, 2019, with Nauman Farooqi sitting in as the Academic Dean. It considered four appeals decisions of the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee, all from students who had been placed on Suspension, having previously been re-admitted on probation. Each appellant brought information to the Appeals Committee that was not available to the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee.

The Re-admissions Appeal Committee reversed the decisions of Admissions and Re-admissions Committee in three of the four cases. The three students were re-admitted, subject to conditions. These conditions were tailored to the circumstances of each case, but typically involved mandatory use of support services. In the fourth case, the committee upheld the decision of the Admissions and Re-admissions Committee because the committee deemed the new information did not support the appeal.

The number of appeals was the same as in 2018 and 2017. There was a single appeal in 2016.

Respectfully Submitted,

Craig Brett
Secretary of Senate and Committee Chair
